Intelligence report on the three-hour "war"

On May 27, 5th year after the Rain, the the three-hour "war" between kingdom of Grand Osaka and Kingdom of Ecclesia took place.
It was declared by kingdom of Grand Osaka. D'Arborea used in it a new update (op. which is to op and near impossible to counter). By hijacking a loyal vassal from Kingdom of Ecclesia vassal chain it made Kingdom of Ecclesia into a Duchy.
Link to update – it is important to anybody with vassal chain (even lordship/town) to understand it, to protect yourself from using it.

PAPAL BULL VIAM AGNOSCERE PACEM

Recognizing the path to Truth and Peace is through dialogue and compromise, and recognizing the rising tension and division within Terra Borealis, His Holiness Pope Anacletus, with the Voice of the Twelve, appeals to the clergy of the World to aid in healing these wounds and mend these rifts, with devotion to the Twelve above temporal allegiances and personal loyalties.

While these divisions may not be visible as of yet, slowly simmering behind curtains in dimly lit passages where discord is fed by rumour and lie, this is the precise time to bring the Light of the Twelve to these dark corridors and guide these lost Souls back into the embrace of unity and sacred fellowship. For it is in these quiet hours of unrest - when discontent whispers but has not yet screamed, when mistrust flickers but has not yet burned - that the faithful must act with courage and foresight.

We call upon all Priests, Deans, Bishops, Primates, Patriarchs, Priors, Abbots, Grand-masters; all humble servants of the altar to serve as instruments for peace not only in word but in deed: preach your sermons of peace to the people, remind all of our similarities and how we can work together despite our differences; provide a neutral place for brother speak to brother, foe to foe, with open arms rather than clenched fists.

To the monarchs and lords of Terra Borealis, We extend this same call: lay down the old grievances, refuse the temptations of pride and vengeance, and remember that your crowns are dust before the glory of the Twelve. These lands will not survive another sundering, but it may yet be redeemed by humility and faith.

To this effect, We call upon all for the initiation of Councils of Reconciliation - with the Church ready to assist those who wish, sanctifying these talks by prayer and guarding the vow of peace - gatherings wherein disputes may be aired in the spirit of truth, and forgiveness may be offered as freely as it is received.

Thus it was spoken, hopefully it will be heard.

Let us not forget that the presence of the d'Arboreas, as the unifiers of Terra Borealis, created this longlasting period of peace that they left behind as legacy to all of us.

Let us work towards peace with these families before this trouble festers any further, through dialogue, negotiation and compromise. Even if you may say there is no grief, the invitation is and will remain always open.

L'héritage qu'il laisse est celui de la guerre et de l'oppression. La preuve en est aujourd'hui avec sa prise d'armes envers ses anciens vassaux et l'intimidation qu'il impose à un peuple qu'il a abandonné pendant l'hiver. Et la diplomatie d'Arborea serait connue si il y en avait. Puisque qu'il déclare la guerre officieusement à la majeure partie de Borealis qui, ne être affilié à lui.

The legacy he leaves is one of war and oppression. This is evidenced today by his taking up arms against his former vassals and the intimidation he imposes on a people he abandoned during the winter. And Arborea's diplomacy would be known if there were any. Since he unofficially declared war on most of Borealis, which does not wish to be affiliated with him.

And Ecclesia didn't need him to repel the invaders from the kingdom of Kokosmaques, your vassal. Ecclesia didn't intimidate the papacy or any other lord. It's the conflict of one man's ego.

Reunification War

✠ By the Hand of the King ✠

Royal Proclamation of His Majesty Wilfrid d'Arborea Ray, King of Grand Osaka, Scion of the House of d'Arborea

To all the peoples of Terra Borealis, and to the rulers beyond her borders, let it be known across all lands, from the shores to the mountain peaks:

I, Wilfrid d'Arborea Ray, rightful King of Grand Osaka and heir to the imperial throne of Caelum, hereby declare war upon the Kingdom of Ecclesia.

This act is neither taken lightly nor driven by a mere thirst for power. It is a response to the grave insult to royal dignity, to the rejection of sacred peace, and to the explicit refusal of King Ecclesia to honor the call for unity made by His Holiness Pope Anacletus on behalf of the Twelve.

Where others saw the opportunity to heal the wounds of the past, the King of Ecclesia saw only his own fear. While Terra Borealis still mourns the fall of the Empire, he slanders my return and calls rightful authority tyranny, forgetting that it was House d'Arborea that once united these lands under the banner of order.

Ecclesia did not only reject dialogue — he publicly scorned my throne, mockingly disregarding the Papal Bull "Viam Agnoscere Pacem", thereby exposing the true face of his court: not that of piety, but that of vanity and ambition.

But more than this, let it be known: the King of Ecclesia seeks to dominate the future of Borealis. He has sought control through the Hall of Nations, plotting to exert his will over all nations and peoples by subverting the unity of Terra Borealis. This is why he refused to agree to the Papal Bull — it was not out of pride alone, but because he desires the control of Borealis for himself. Such ambition cannot be allowed to flourish under a tyrant.

Thus, in the name of restoring unity, in defense of my crown and of the people suffering under chaos and tyranny, I take up arms, not for vengeance, but for the restoration of justice and rightful authority.

Let all know this: this war is for the rebirth of Grand Osaka, to reunite the lost provinces under a banner of law, justice, and honor. Let the mad King of Ecclesia tremble — not at my words, but at the very injustice he seeks to impose on the world.

The sword shall be sharp, and the crown unshakable.

So swears Wilfrid d'Arborea Ray,

By blood, by right, and by destiny.

We are Ready

Response to the war of the tyrant Arborea, the deceitful and lying.

Since the fall of the imperial family, Borealis has not been subject to any conflict, and peace was harmonious with the papacy and its subjects.

No skirmishes for several months. Not a single territorial dispute.

But now that the snow has disappeared, those who had abandoned Borealis have returned.

We could have expected a little honor from him, but no. An Arborea remains an Arborea.

Giving gold to aggressors who proclaim themselves servants of death, and after denying his desire for war, after accusing and threatening the Pope and those faithful to Ecclesia, he finally shows his true colors. Greed, lies, a rotten and unworthy ego, the Arborea don't want to deal with religion, they just want to control it, they don't want to deal with a nation, just fill its coffers to buy another regalia. But whatever happens, the people of Ecclesia will never submit to this dishonorable filth. But with the discovery of the fuse, perhaps he has found officers to lead his wars once again. Arborea has found people to give him enough courage to feel strong. Ecclesia is ready and your life will be difficult until the end here.

Context of relation between the empire/kingdom of Osaka and Kingdom of Ecclesia

During time where D'Arborea family was leader of empire Kingdom of Ecclesia was loyal to him long time (x month). But because his lack of will to fairly represent the nation of Ecclesia, which was repeatedly attacked without reason by other vassals of the empire, the Kingdom of Ecclesia peacefully left the structures of the empire. There is no proofs that Kingdom of Ecclesia was planning anything it was accused of. Make sure it is true Linarth

One of the frequent troublemakers of peace on Terra Borealis is Sifard Colbert, the current ruler of the duchy of Chernosteal (formerly county). He also is one of many mercenaries paid by D'Arborea family. It is of course not crime but well don't fit royal family (op. not so royal for his vassal).

Proof of mercenaries payment.

Proof of unprovoked intrusion and attack of Re-Head family in count Plasezko land. As you see it was before war declaration. Well pretty sneaky and not honorable behaviour.

WAR

Borealis has slept for too long... But it's time to put an end to this sleep!

I, Prince Mablung, Headless Son of Feanor from the Principality of Rehed, following the covenants of my ancestors, declare WAR on the entire Kingdom of Eclessia. This will be a BLOODY war, soldiers of Eclessia will die and rivers of blood will create lakes.

My soldiers will march through Terra Borealis, killing and destroying everything they can. My soldiers will feast on bones in the capital of the Kingdom of Eclessia, the city of Naboo. It will be plundered and enslaved by the great war machine of the Headless from the Principality of Rehed! With me are the gods, the experience of the ancestors and strong warriors who bring death on many continents!

Long live death!

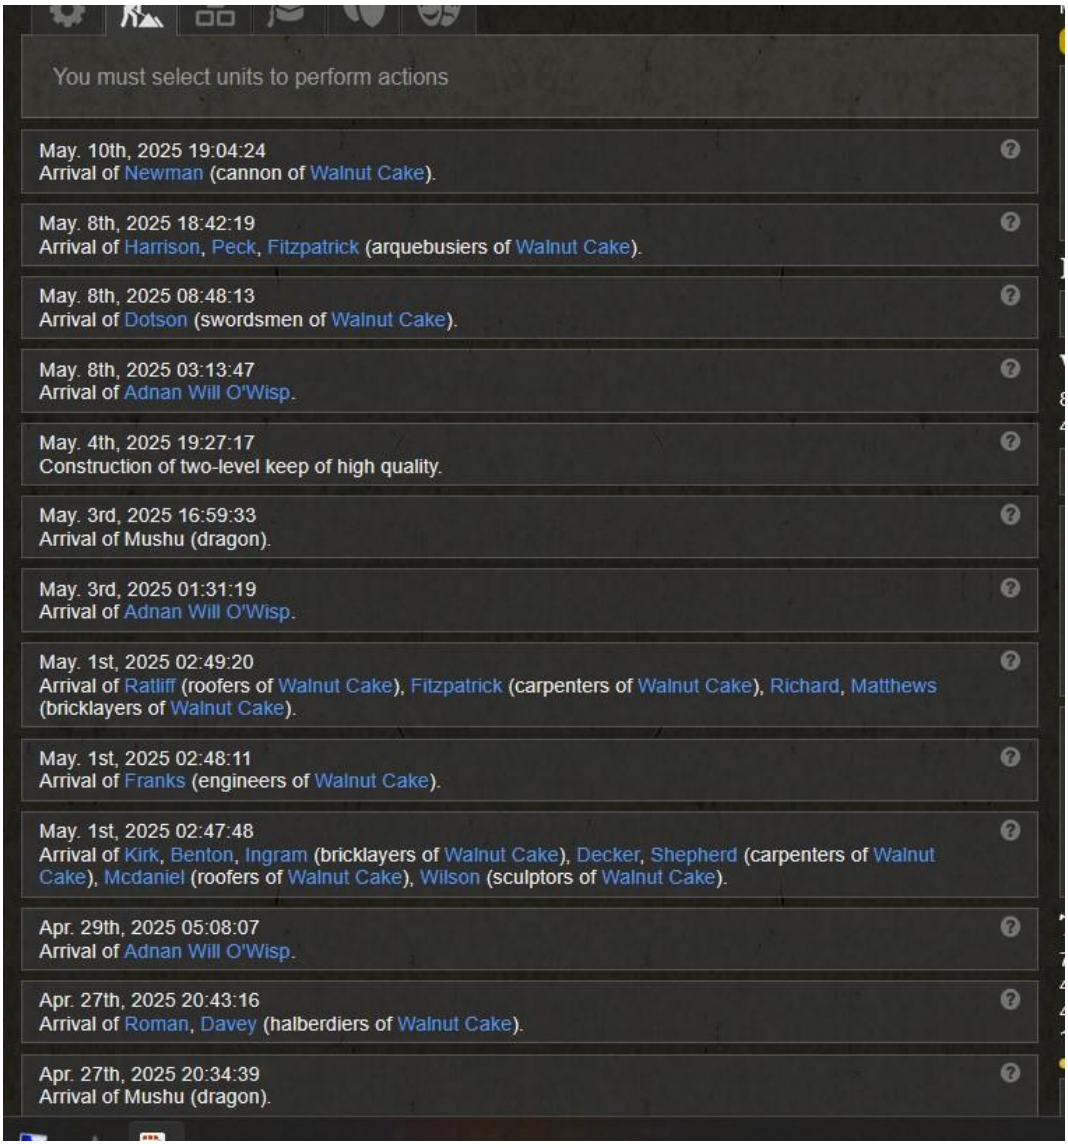
Murder of dragon Mushu, member of family O'Wisp by Sifard Colbert mercenaries. As you can see this is people who are king D'Arborea friends. In best case greedy no honorable mercenaries and in worst case madmans. After murder ,the murderer never said sorry, 150 gold (an almost insulting amount) were offered by pope Anacletus Zijthoff. Like Mushu was just a horse or cow.



every word.
What is the meaning of this visit, after you already sent me another mocking and infuriating letter?

Murderer is quite a big word
One would say killing a horrible beast makes someone a hero

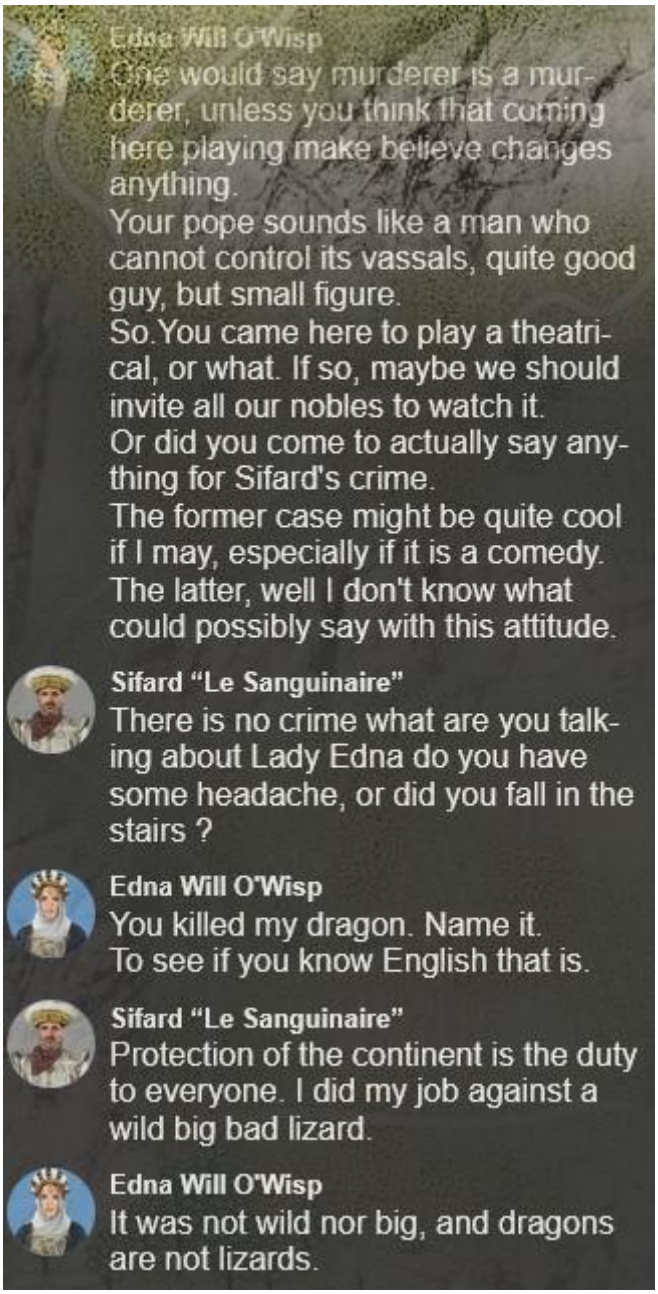
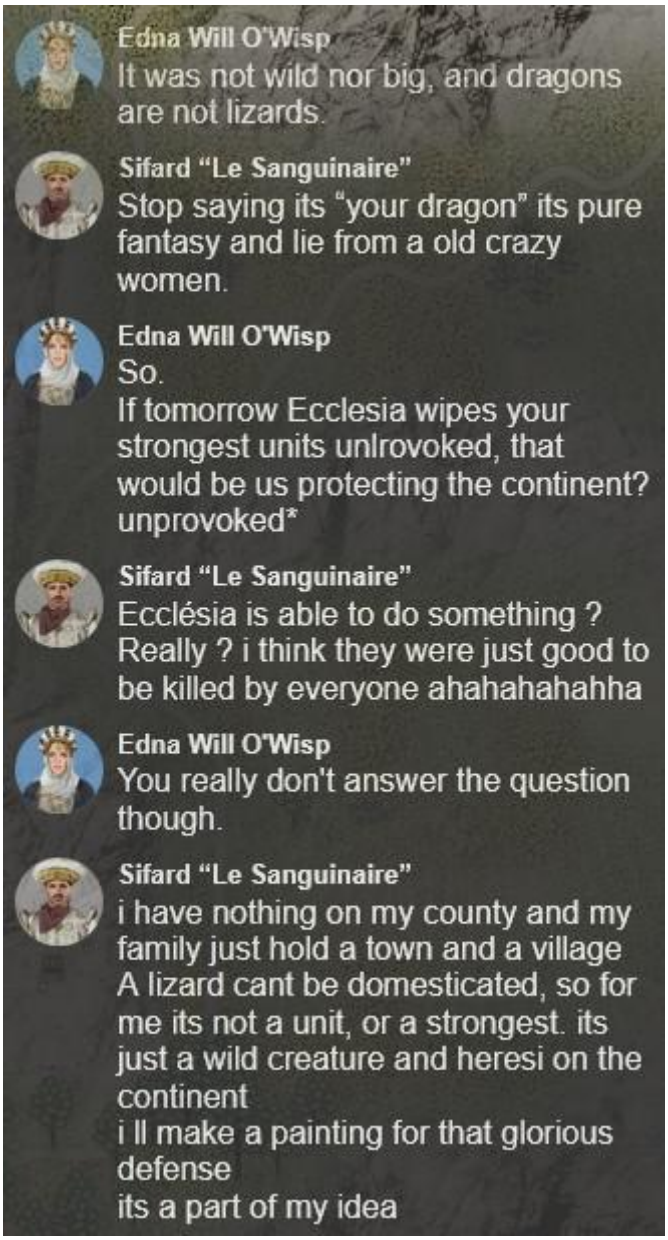
Sifard "Le Sanguinaire"
You are right @Sarah i'm a hero i deserve the honor of the pope.



Edna Will O'Wisp
One would say murderer is a murderer, unless you think that coming here playing make believe changes anything.
Your pope sounds like a man who cannot control its vassals, quite good guy, but small figure.
So.You came here to play a theatrical, or what. If so, maybe we should invite all our nobles to watch it.
Or did you come to actually say anything for Sifard's crime.
The former case might be quite cool if I may, especially if it is a comedy.
The latter, well I don't know what could possibly say with this attitude.
Sifard "Le Sanguinaire"
There is no crime what are you talking about Lady Edna do you have some headache, or did you fall in the stairs ?
Edna Will O'Wisp
You killed my dragon. Name it.
To see if you know English that is.
Sifard "Le Sanguinaire"
Protection of the continent is the duty to everyone. I did my job against a wild big bad lizard.
Edna Will O'Wisp
It was not wild nor big, and dragons are not lizards.



Edna Will O'Wisp
It was not wild nor big, and dragons are not lizards.
Sifard "Le Sanguinaire"
Stop saying its "your dragon" its pure fantasy and lie from a old crazy women.
Edna Will O'Wisp
So.
If tomorrow Ecclesia wipes your strongest units unlrovoked, that would be us protecting the continent?
unprovoked*
Sifard "Le Sanguinaire"
Ecclésia is able to do something ?
Really ? i think they were just good to be killed by everyone ahahahahahha
Edna Will O'Wisp
You really don't answer the question though.
Sifard "Le Sanguinaire"
i have nothing on my county and my family just hold a town and a village
A lizard cant be domesticated, so for me its not a unit, or a strongest. its just a wild creature and heresi on the continent
i ll make a painting for that glorious defense

I beg your pardon ? I saw a wild dragon attacking your temple. A very big beast deztroying a holly site. I was my duty to sacrifice myself to kill the heresy.

You killed my dragon and now either you pretend to be unaware that the dragon was mine (dragon didn't do anything but yawning in that temple before you arrived, also you could have checked my family's page to see the dragon portrait there before you rush in my temple without even sending anything to me), or you are indeed a person first hit then optionally think.

Tell, me, what was exactly the heresy of a tamed creature that didn't hurt anyone? I was sending it only in my domain so as not to disturb anyone else, my only stupidity was that I didn't think of people like you. I'd hoped my dragon was in keep so to alert the kingdom first before you did your stupid action.

Thank you for killing my dragon Mushu? Really? Right. Mocking, eh?

I have recently heard of the death of your Dragon Mushu at the hands of one of my vassals in what I have been told was a misunderstanding regarding the safety of a Temple.

On behalf of the Holy See, Abbess Aldusa of Mont-Saint-Sneed shall deliver 150oz of gold to the same temple where this occurred.

May the Twelve offer you comfort in these times.

Twelve Blessings be upon you and your House,

Your Holiness,

You forgot 150 gold on the ground of Oakwood. I would be arrogant if I had any bad feelings for Your Holiness, as You try to mediate. But I cannot accept this gold.

If I may, accusing me of not being in Ecclesia's vassal tree, is neither a defense line nor a blame to me. What, do you approve attacking freely people just for being independent? You could have taken me to your vassal chain and gain a dragon if I am to believe your vassal's intel was so poor, that thought of me as a rogue province - bordering Naboo, capital of Ecclesia 😀. I am not accusing you of anything, I have no quarel with you, but I see that a murder case is given as a poor management result. Meanwhile, the murderer hasn't even given the slightest indication of remorse.

Also, I need to inform you that the murder happened 4th of May, not yesterday, that's like 9 days ago, like 3 days after the updates, so that argument, even if we agreed for conversation's sake that people with 3 stacks of musketeers can attack freely wherever they want, without thinking, cannot stand either, at least not with that kind of argument, but with arguments like 'he has the power, you didn't'.

Also, 150 gold for a dragon is, I believe, almost an insult. In any case I am not sure how much I would pay for that baby dragon to fly again on our skies. Alas.

Again, I have nothing against Your Holiness. But Mushu was part of our family, shown to the family page, and this is how it was felt, not some random pleb unit with shiny weapons.

Forgive my sentimental response, but what one can do.

Sun carved to thy hair, illuminating Your Path, through Kaabe's sown lillies.

Dear Lady Edna,

You, at this time, are still not a vassal of Ecclesia. This is not an accusation, it is a statement of fact. If you speak to them daily, if you trade with them frequently, if you feel it in your heart that you are part of Ecclesia, that is one matter. If you are vassal to the Kingdom, or one of its counties, it is another. Today and at the time of the attack, you were independent. We all suffered from the recent changes in our world, but there has been plenty of time to resolve this. So I do not believe that it can be expected that one knows of whom the other is a vassal if they are not vassalized. No one outside of you and Ecclesia could know if you are on good terms and still working out who will be your suzerain, or if you have left on bad terms.

Unfortunately for you, this means your dragon was the target oportunistic attack, as the domain was independent and the dragon was largely unprotected. Whether this was supposed to be to protect your village from what seemed like a stray dragon or to deliberately kill a dragon to protect something else, I cannot tell as I was not witness to the event nor the one who dealt the blow. A Pope once lost his tiara and station because he kept it in a charcoal furnace, and a thief strolled right in as the Pope slept. One should always take steps to protect oneself and that which one loves and needs.

I do not mean to accuse you or anyone of anything; you will keep your side of the story and they will keep theirs and the truth will never be truly ascertained. If they knew you were tied to Ecclesia or not, if they knew the dragon was yours, we shall never truly know with any certainty, we may only speculate on the inner workings of the mind.

I do mean to try and resolve this before it becomes a larger affair that will lead to the demise of at least one of the sides and further crack the peace which we've strived for in this continent.

What one can do is learn from this occasion, negotiate for more gold if one so wishes (and considering you did ask for compensation, I believe one does indeed so wish) or refuse it out of principle, but to keep building and continue with life, as fixating on the past instead of working towards the futurw will only bring unhappiness and further division, which is something I do not want in our continent.

You knew very well that I was part of Ecclesia, I do not believe such an organisation of that magnitude has that poor intel.

I am still vice-mayoress of one of the cities of the kingdom, capital of a ccounty, do you feel that this was random and I was an enemy of Ecclesia? Bordering Naboo?

Till this very moment, because I was in a faraway county I still can't be in Ecclesia's vassal tree. Maybe I should rename all my domains Ecclesia's vassal? This happened everywhere, pretending that in three days of the updates this was enough time to think of me as a rogue province, can happen only to people that first act then think, as I already accused Sifard, the murderer.

In any case, I am sending back your gold your eminence. This past you say, was 9 days ago. And if one wishes for peace, the victim is not the one to blame.

You seem to have a lot of assumptions on how the Holy See functions and its relations to its vassals. Most of them, I must tell you, are wrong. Temporal vassals have quite high degrees of autonomy within the Holy See's very loose temporal structure, as its main focus is the spiritual organization.

We are affiliated, undeniably, but my vassals are free to run their own diplomacy and their actions are their own. As I've said, I am only involving myself directly as I want peace in this continent and I believe this is getting to extreme proportions.

There is also a false dichotomy between being a vassal of Ecclesia and an enemy of Ecclesia. I do not know your relationship to Ecclesia and as much you keep repeating that you are a vassal, you still have not been subjugated. What am I to believe when your words and your actions contradict one another?

There are two Ecclesian counties very close to you if that far away county isn't suitable. Choose one, be subjugated and then you may call yourself a vassal of Ecclesia.

robably you haven't read my answer or you are incapable of understanding it. I re-iterate: they don't have found yet someone to get me to their branch. I am a vice-mayoress of Eccleplusia, capital of one of the royal counties of Ecclesia. The attack happened only 3 days after the updates automatically the Viscounty of my family out of Eccleplusia because it is too far. So even if we were to accept this very fragile line of defense for your 'vassal' this wouldn't stand, because many families had some days till they got inside their former vassal tree. So please drop this excuse.

Now, if you cannot or don't want to understand this, and you are still accusing my family of this murder, this will be my last answer.

If I was really independent, how this wasn't a plain simple murder? Only Ecclesia's people can be murdered? Did your 'vassal' sent a letter? I mean the 'vassal' that asked me to tell him Thank You because he saved me from a feral dragon.

And you tell me I am contradicting.

I am not accusing you of any murder.

This is not any line of defense for my vassal as I do not care to speak for my vassal; I believe he can speak for himself and he has spoken enough to you.

I am trying to give you advice and the compensation you asked for so this doesn't happen again with other matters. In our world, the only things not currently under some sort of protection are dragons and for a very good reason.

They are weapons.

Dangerous, deadly, beastly magic weapons. Not friends, not family. Weapons. Weapons of mass destruction.

If you want to make use of it, protect it.

And more important than protecting your weapons, protect yourself. This is a ruthless world, do not take words for safety, for strength. This world will not care for what you say, for what you write. But it will care for what you do. Protect yourself and those you care about. No one else will. They have their own interests, as you should have yours.
